QUAIL FACTS WITH PAXTON

BY FIELDING CRAVENS

In this article, we will be joined by Paxton to learn about quail. Hello, I am Paxton and I will be talking about the gamblers' Quail here to the northern bobwhite in Washington and all of the others in between. First, I will talk about California Valley quail, the type I own. They look very alike to Gamblers quail. The male California's have obtuse Feathered breasts and their top of the head, they don't have a tiny chestnut colored hat, these are unique to the California valley quail. Now the gamblers quail, they live here and parts of Utah and California. They are the same size and shape as the California Valley quail. They have gray breasts and a chestnut colored hat. We will talk about the mountain quail known for its large size and enormous top knot. They are the largest quail species in the United States and have beautiful brownish wings and soft white spots on the wings.

They live freely in Mexico throughout parts of Eastern Canada. Next, the scaled quail, they live in Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. They look like they have scales and lay speckled eggs. They look very beautiful. Finally, the Bob White lives mostly in the eastern USA and is a very popular bird with its white speckles and beautiful brown body. I hope you liked my Quail facts.

THE SECRET TALENTS OF OUR TEACHERS

BY CADENCE MAZZONE

Did you know that teachers have secret talents outside of school? Over the course of 4 days I asked 7 teachers what their secret talents were.

Dr. J said "My secret talent is finding four leaf clovers."

Ms. Olson said "My hidden talents are being a grill master and karaoke singer"

Ms. Componovo said "I train horses and donkeys."

Miss. O said "I was in a marching band and played the French Horn"

Ms. Teller said "My secret talent is that I bake sour dough"

Mrs. Beatty said "I can crochet." Shortly after, I asked her if she had any other talents; She got on the floor, crossed her legs and walked on her knees!

Mrs. Kennedy: "My secret talent is baking "WORLD FAMOUS" Pumpkin Chocolate Chip Cookies!"

As you can see teachers have a secret life outside of school.
