Question of the Week

By: Arianna Graves & Kylee Giddens

Do 7th and 8th grade students like the new class schedule this year?

Out of 34 students surveyed, only 7 students said yes, while 27 students said no. The majority of students who voted no said the new class schedule is confusing and difficult to remember. Some students said the order of the days is hard to keep track of, while others feel that some days seem longer than others. Students also mentioned that they don’t like having two specials a day. Is this because it’s the first few weeks of school? Or will this scheduling continue to be confusing throughout the year. Overall, most 7th and 8th grade students do not like the new schedule this year. The main reasons are; the schedule is confusing, hard to remember, and having two thirty-minute specials in one day can be distracting for other classes. Based on the survey, maybe students would prefer a simpler and easier to follow schedule.

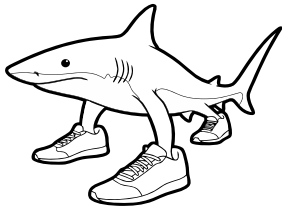

4–H In Action

By: Baylee Rawlinson & Elsie Christoper

4H is more than just Cows and Cooking; it is all about Head, Heart, Hands, and Health. But, what exactly is 4H? 4H is a country wide organization that teaches kids and young adults ages how to learn skills through hands–on activities. Some of the activities include, but are not limited to; archery, showing off different types of livestock, baking, gardening, art, hunting and so much more. Many people across the United States participate in 4H for hands on learning, life skills and leadership. So, what do 4Hrs actually do? People involved in 4H do a variety of activities from raising and showing livestock and shooting in shooting competitions. We have local clubs like Parks In The Pines and our very own president goes to school here. If you want to join in on the archery, rifle, pistol, and poultry fun, talk to the 8th grader Baylee Rawlinson to get more info to join.

Backpack Audit

By: Noble Sapp & Jesse Slim

For the back-to-school theme newspaper, we are going over what students have in their backpacks to get through each day. Our objective is to see if they actually have the required materials they need or if they just carry around a bunch of snacks and squishes all day instead. Our first student is Johana; she’s in 4th Grade! She let us look in her backpack; she had some folders and Kleenex! (She probably had everything else she needed in her desk.) The second volunteer was Everett in 5th Grade and he had most of the essentials, which is great news! Are third student was Nathan that we randomly chose in 6th grade! He had some art supplies and highlighters and also all of the essential materials. Good job, Nathan! Our 4th person that we interviewed was Jase in 7th Grade, he had all the essential materials for middle school students and one random item, a single tic tac! Imagine that! That is all for our backpack audit, see you next time!
